

Baltic ICS Member lectures

SERIES 2

The Baltic Exchange and Institute of Chartered Shipbrokers present the second series of lectures in Shanghai, Singapore, Athens and London; intended to support and develop those working in chartering and operations.

The series will examine topical issues facing those working in these roles, offering advice on best practice in critical situations and insight into the changing patterns affecting sectors within shipping.

Taking place near the end of every other month and including lunch where applicable, the lectures are free to all those working at Baltic or ICS member companies. Supported by the major broking houses, this initiative is aimed at supporting those developing their careers in shipping and encouraging better advocacy across the future generation of industry leaders.

THE IMO 2020 SULPHUR CAP

Lecture no. 1 of 5

INTRO

Looking into the outcome of the IMO's Summer discussions and industry reaction to the 2020 cap, our speakers will give attendees a look at the real figures surrounding these incoming changes as well as the effect that has so far played-out in our industry. Looking further into what may come, attendees will be able to hear from the industry-centred experts on the choices available to principals and how owner compliance may impact the charterer's decision making.
